Presstext:

The music scene has an up-and-coming new artist to offer - CHIARA. At 27, she is young, creative and vibrant and discovered her artistic talent in a house in the middle of the forest in the Palatinate. Today she lives in the vibrant city of Berlin as a counterpoint and incorporates her influences and experiences into her music. As a talented singer/songwriter, producer and label founder, she sings in her songs about the journey from a past love to a new great love, but also about love for herself and about her friends and family.

This is exactly what her next EP „Moon Hours“, which will be released on 26.01.24, is about. CHIARA has made a name for herself as a powerful front woman and is famous for her energetic live performances, in which she sweeps the audience away and makes the stage shake with everything from soulful ballads to rock music. Her musical journey began classically with violin lessons at the tender age of five.

You can still hear the sound of her violin in one or two songs today. But at the age of nine, when she saw her older brother playing guitar in a band, Chiara realized that she belonged on stage - as a front woman! No sooner said than done, she later studied songwriting/producing at the age of 19, majoring in singing in Freiburg. After graduating, however, she moved to the metropolis of Berlin.

CHIARA is not only likeable and talented, but also a safe haven for our emotions. Her music creates a space in which we can forget time and simply feel better afterwards. She inspires the music world with her extraordinary voice, her unmistakable style and her special charisma. It remains exciting to see where her journey will take her and what musical treasures she has to offer in the future.
